

When it comes to socks, Wellman thinks on its feet

After all, the maker of the most comfortable, most durable, most luxurious performance fibers knows a thing or two about feet. We know that socks should provide excellent shape retention and great moisture management. We know they should dry fast. Stay soft. Take and keep color beautifully. Precisely what our fibers, developed from a new patented copolymer that allows fibers to be atmospherically dyed, are born to do. Fibers like ComFortrelXP[®], Sensura[®] and Spunnaire[®]. Top of the line fibers for comfort and performance. Want a better sock? THINK WELLMAN.

"When every step counts, it is important to have comfort and performance going for you. I've found that socks made from Wellman fibers, clearly, offer both."
